

KNOX DOCUMENT CABINET™

EMERGENCY PREPARATION, ALL IN ONE BOX WHEN SECONDS MATTER.

For facilities that manufacture, store, or use hazardous materials, the Knox Document Cabinet allows for secure, on-site storage of chemical information, emergency response plans, floor plans and interior keys to locked areas within a facility. This allows emergency responders immediate access to critical information in the event of an incident involving hazardous material or other emergency situations. The Knox Document Cabinet helps minimize the potential of injuries, unnecessary property damage from forced entry, and loss to the business which impacts company revenue, recovery time, and possible forced closure.
